MINERS EAGER TO ACCEPT PROPOSAL FOR FULL PARLEY

FORMER MEETINGS TOOK IN ONLY PART OF FIELD, CLAIM.

FLOUT ARMY IDEA

Unions Say Coal Mined if Government Takes Reins will be Limited.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright, 1922, by The Janesville Gazette.

Washington—President Harding still has an opportunity to settle the coal strike by personal intervention. The correspondence has been given an authoritative outline of the miners' position which would seem to indicate that if Mr. Harding will assume a joint conference of miners' representatives and operators of the old central competitive mine field and propose as he did once before the miners return to work on the old wage schedule until next April or thereafter pending a commission's inquiry, the proposal would be immediately accepted by the miners.

Miners' officials, who did not wish to be quoted at this time but whose views are absolutely final in their own headquarters, have said that the president in reality has never brought to Washington enough operators to embrace the union fields, and that in dealing with A. M. Ogle, president of the National Coal Association, the president was in reality in contact only with a small group of operators who reject the viewpoint of the non-union coal fields. Mr. Ogle, it is contended, was elected president of the coal association on the platform of non-interference conferences, and that when Mr. Harding telegraphed him to bring operators to Washington he brought the men who believed in that platform, a group dominated by considerations arising in the non-union rather than the union fields.

Seek General Conference. The mining state positively that President Harding really had no contact with the majority of the operators of the union fields who desire (Continued on page 10.)

FREE STATERS WIN LIMERICK BATTLE

Isolate Republicans in Barracks; Surrender Held Imminent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Dublin—News reaching Dublin Wednesday confirms earlier reports that heavy fighting occurred in Limerick over the week-end, the national army troops succeeding in isolating the irregulars in the Strand barracks and in the city. The capitulation of insurgents is believed imminent.

A traveler brought information that irregulars in Cork are making preparations to defend the city. Hotel guests have been turned out, allowed to take only a few personal belongings, being told their bulkier luggage would make good barricades. In the Limerick fighting the nationalists, Saturday night, operating in armored cars, poured a hail of bullets into the Strand barracks and also used hand grenades freely. Free staters resumed operations early Sunday. When advances were dispatched, the nationalists were awaiting the surrender of the barracks. Insurgent casualties include six killed, but the number of wounded is not known. The irregulars have a fully equipped hospital.

An automobile funeral party of five staters, which was in the body of a volunteer, killed in county Galway, for burial, was ambushed near Athlone by republicans. Commandant Rooney was killed and eight other national army soldiers taken prisoner. Commandant Rooney's body was placed beside the coffin of the dead volunteer and was sent to Galway, where the sight of dead comrades had a crowd which surrounded the car.

Secretary Denby replied to the address without referring to the appeal for American aid in building a navy. He expressed the good wishes of America for China's welfare and said Americans regarded an active navy as a factor promoting peace.

New Hearings for Maintenance Men

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Chicago—Railway strikes peace parties assumed now and more important proportions Wednesday with the possibility of the walkout of 400,000 maintenance men who were virtually removed by the action of the railroad labor board in indicating that it would grant new hearings on the wage question.

It was pointed out that the board's action in promising re-hearings commits the board to nothing it had not already indicated might reasonably be expected under the transportation act and that although definite assurance of re-hearings was generally received as a concession to the union men, this was not to be interpreted as weakening the stand the board has taken from the outset.

Welcome Hearings. Senator Cummins' announcement that he would hold hearings on the transportation act to ascertain how the law may be amended so the living wage principle would be made clear, was received as decidedly favorable to peace, both by rail heads and strike leaders.

The railroad labor board was expected to give immediate attention to the petition of maintenance men to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway for a revision of wage scales, the company having waived its right to a 30 day notice.

Striking shopmen picketing railroad yards at Richmond, Va., were reported to be photographing non-union men employed in the shops for (Continued on page 5.)

Tolles Gives Brilliant Address, Urging Service as Great Key to Success

Ninety-five per cent of the people fail in life and not because they want to, but because they do not know how to succeed. This was one of the highlights in an axiomatic talk given by Harry Newman Tolles of the Sheldon School of Efficiency, Chicago, before a group of business men and students at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night.

A demonstration of applause followed when Tolles, in a rising tone of voice, said: "The first essential of a community or business success is cooperation. It is cooperation of three kinds. There is community cooperation, found when business men unite. There is competitive cooperation, found when competitors unite together and discuss their problems. There is cooperation between employer and employee."

Dwelling on this last, the speaker said that while newspapers filled with stories of strife between employer and employee, 90 per cent of business institutions enjoy contentment between these elements.

"God's Laws Govern Success. There can be no cooperation in a community or business without organization and you must have leaders if you are going to get anywhere. If you are going to have a successful business, you must have successful units."

"Business men are going to come to take an interest in seeing that the institutions of the community make good and if there is a failure they are going to see it is not a public disaster."

As one of his many illustrations, the address being in conversational style, Mr. Tolles said that of 100 men taken at the age of 25, 75 are dead before they reach 65, 54 are dead before they reach 55, 44 are dead before they reach 45, and 34 are dead before they reach 35.

SOCIALISTS SEEK UNITED SUPPORT OF BADGER LABOR CONVENTION AGAIN IS FACED WITH POLITICAL PROBLEM.

UNITY IS SOUGHT

McHenry Scores for Opposing Compulsory Part-Time Education; Crownhart Speaks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Oshkosh—A plan for concerted political action on the part of organized labor in Wisconsin during the coming year was outlined here when appeal for reelection of Senator Robert M. La Follette was made by P. J. Smith, general organizer for the American Federation of Labor, at the annual labor speaker of the convention. The resolution calling for recognition of the Russian government and the negotiation of a trade agreement with it, was unanimously adopted.

Opposition to any proposal for independent political action by the workers was looked for from the socialist group within the convention. This faction will urge that socialist candidates refrain from joining the state federation, a suggestion that has not met with approval in past gatherings of the wage earners.

The resolutions committee was confronted with two resolutions of which division is expected, one calling for recognition of the Russian government and the negotiation of a trade agreement with it, and another calling for recognition of the Oregon government of Mexico by the United States.

Major A. C. McHenry of Oshkosh, candidate for governor in the republican primaries, was scored by Henry Ohi, general organizer of the Wisconsin federation, and by E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the board of education, for his opposition to compulsory part-time education.

Less interference on the part of courts with the actions of the legislative branch of the government, was urged by the socialist group. The public are to be served, Justice Charles H. Crownhart, of the Wisconsin supreme court told the convention. Justice Crownhart, former chief justice of the state, said courts were usually earnest in their intention to do the correct thing, but that, unable to investigate each case carefully, they depend on its presentation by attorneys.

Hambrecht is Speaker. The continuation school plan, being worked out by the Wisconsin Federation of Teachers, was described by George P. Hambrecht, director of vocational education as a "learn-while-you-earn program for children who have left the full time schools to enter industrial and commercial life."

CARROLL'S ARREST ASCRIBED TO OTHER CAUSES THAN WAR

A perusal of the record in the case of John J. Carroll, Janesville, the twenty-seventh soldier to be pardoned by Governor Blaine in his announced policy to pardon all soldiers who show that their downfall is the result of the war, has led to the conclusion that his pardon is hardly true in the John Carroll case, officials say. Judge George Grimm and District Attorney S. C. Duvall are reported to have been asked that his pardon be withheld because he had not returned to Rock county. His release was partially due to the interest shown in him by a sister, living in another state.

COUNTRY FOLKS PROTEST CAMPS ON SCHOOL SITES

City folks may think it is all right to make the district school yards in the rural districts some of their back yards at home but the farmer population object. One Rock county school district has gone so far as to protest against camping by the erection of a big sign.

When these tourists on the road arrive from nowhere when the dinner hour comes they many times select the rural school grounds as the camping site, one reason being that there is water there. But sometimes they forget to put out the fires and endanger the building. Most of them aren't very scrupulous about picking up when they leave.

Devoting for a moment, Mr. Tolles remarked:

"Some day we shall have enlightenment in our land to revolutionize our criminal law. The world is coming to a higher and yet higher plane of development."

"The fellow who deceives himself or other fellow deceives himself and I believe every man will suffer for the wrong he does. Man is not going to get out of this world until he is a better man."

Mr. Tolles said Wednesday that the strike of his men was practically 100 per cent effective.

ACTING LIBRARIAN TO LEAVE CITY

Miss Emily Mooser, Head of Children's Branch of Library, Resigns.

Miss Emily Mooser, children's librarian, and acting librarian of the Janesville public library, has handed in her resignation to take effect August 15, according to Fred J. Clemens, president of the board of directors. Miss Mooser is to attend the Cleveland Library school in a fall to take a year's course.

Miss Mooser has been in the library for nine years. For the past four years she has been children's librarian, and since the departure of Miss Penny Cox, in April, has been acting librarian.

While the film was being shown an old fashioned show was conducted. The program opened with an illustrated song, "The Shade of a Willow Tree," sung by Theodore Daves. The slides of beautiful girls of 1900 brought back memories of the old "Nickelodeon" shows. Patrons were "ripped" by slides not to put their feet in the aisle, not to remove their hats and not to "expectorate on the floor."

"Remember the Johnstown Flood" was a startling reminder of the last big disaster around the lake.

The picture, "Bought and Paid For" starring Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt was a great contrast to the rest of the performance.

PACKED HOUSES OUT FOR MYERS' 52ND ANNIVERSARY

The Myers theater appropriately observed its 52nd anniversary Tuesday night by showing an old-fashioned movie and a new film, "Thought and Paid For" to packed houses.

The old movie was "Going Straight" starring King Baggot supported by Mary Pickford. It was made 12 years ago and by the insertion of new and extreme subtitles was turned into a comedy. Substitution Neil, Mary Pickford, was a great deal older looking than she is now, but even then she had that beauty and appeal that made her "Going Straight" a success.

WEDNESDAY,

PRISONERS EARN $21,731 IN JAILS

Practically All Paid to Dependents of Men, Report Shows.

Madison—Jail prisoners employed during the past year under provision of the Huber law, earned $21,731, the state board of control reported today. Out of this amount $2,120 was paid to the county and the balance, $21,610 was paid to dependents of the 200 prisoners affected.

The board said that the reason more prisoners were not employed was due to the unsettled industrial conditions. Sheriff having no workhouse are allowed to make contracts and regulations for the profitable employment of prisoners, collect their earnings and pay them over to dependents.

A study of the Huber law by Professor Hart of the University of Iowa, brings the conclusion that the law, that there are in his opinion certain defects in the system which tend to nullify the law.

Professor Hart says that, "as operated in some counties, the system amounts to a tax on probation or parole which is in charge of the elected incumbent of a political office, and escapes have been common, especially among the floaters of prisoners. Many of the prisoners were inefficient and unreliable as workers, while those without dependents had little incentive to work since their earnings go entirely to the county."

6 Judgments Are Awarded by Lange

A number of cases have been disposed of by Justice of the Peace Charles Lange recently. The case of James M. Cullen, who furnished the services of W. R. Duddington for $200, was adjudged for a week. The Wisconsin Grain company was awarded a judgment of $145.40 and costs against Hugo Kent, while Paul Koerth was awarded a judgment against Frank J. Kaiser for $78 and costs. A truck belonging to Kaiser was sold to make the settlement.

Samuel M. D. Clapper, acting for the William J. Ayres & Son company, was awarded $112.42 from S. Con Baker for payment on a supply of blankets. The Liberty Trust corporation was awarded a judgment of $112.22 against Paul Gehrk, on a note. Houston & Gardner were given $21.19 against Elmer Hagen for merchandise.

R. C. Inman was given a judgment against Fred Quade for $1228 for commission.

to negotiate for an immediate return of the miners on the old scale of wages. The arbitration proposal was rejected chiefly because it did not embrace enough of the operators from union fields let alone the non-union districts.

What is sought today by the miners is a conference of operators from the central competitive field or a national conference of all the operators. Mr. Harding, they say, has received assurances of his arbitration proposal from an unrepresentative group of operators. Fully 130,000,000 tons of coal are mined in districts whose operators declined to accept the invitation.

As for the suggestion that coal will be mined if troops are sent to the coal fields to protect the strike-breakers, it is flouted as the height of absurdity by union officials.
"There are 315,000 men on strike in Pennsylvania alone," said the miners' officials, and even if 1,000 mines were surrounded the amount of coal that would be mined would be infinitesimal. The surest way to keep miners from going to work is to send troops to the mines."

Practical Side Unsettled
So the practical side of the question is still unsettled. If the government passes an old scale of wages, the miners would go back in a jiffy. They argue that they want to deal with a single body or at least with a group whose policy will be uniform. Government operation would render simple any wage scale negotiation; as the government's word would be back of the agreement. The administration here doesn't want to get into the coal mining business. Mr. Harding's next move, of course, is to protest miners who will work, but after the lapse of a short time the utility of this will be realized, because the nation's coal supply will not be visibly increased. "That's why the miners insist that Mr. Harding can settle the strike by addressing invitations, not to one man or one small group but to the operators in every one of the 35 mining districts, so that miners and operators can negotiate directly. The prediction is made that enough of the operators would come to make possible an agreement along the lines of the present wage scale, with a provision for a commission to inquire into costs and facts on which future scales could be based.

GASOLINE PRICE CUT 2 CENTS HERE

Effective Wednesday, all grades of gasoline and naphtha sold by the Standard Oil company are reduced in price two cents per gallon, according to advices received at the Janesville office. This cuts the filling station price from 25.9 cents to 23.9 cents and tank wagon price to 21.9. Kerosene is now 12 cents a gallon, a reduction of one cent.

OPENING OF A NEW SCENIC ROUTE TO YELLOWSTONE PARK

Through the heart of the Rockies and the Last of the Old West. The new scenic Teton Mountain route from Lander, Wyo., to the Yellowstone opens July 1. Large, easy riding motor buses take you through the Shoshone Indian Reservation, along the picturesque Snake River, which is crossed and recrossed many times, to wonderful Brooks Lake, with the world's greatest trout fishing.

Other attractive features of the trip are the unequalled views of the Teton Mountains, considered the most majestic of all ranges in the Rocky Mountain Region; and a ride through the Jackson Hole and Lake Region; the greatest big game country in the world.

A new booklet, entitled "Teton Mountain Route to Yellowstone National Park" is just off the press. Ask for a copy. Then you will want to go.

For fares, train schedules and full information, ask A. L. Hemmens, Ticket Agent, Chicago and North Western Ry.

GREEKS CHOOSE NICK PAPPAS AS FAVORITE NAME

Pond Greek parents have a propensity for attaching jaw-breaking names to their children, so when the children migrate to America they shorten it to the American style, but choose one that still sounds Greek.

One of the most popular is Nick Pappas. This was brought out in Rock county circuit court this week when the record of Nick Pappas, held for the murder of John Slack, was being reported on by District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie.

As Fairbanks-Morse had at one time had 12 Nick Pappas in their employ it was hard to check up on the Nick in question.

$6,000 Saved by School Children

A good start toward the development of thrift in the younger generation, the upper half of which has been losing it, was secured the past year in the Janesville public schools through the introduction of the miniature banking system.

The amount deposited, amounting to about $6,000, is not as significant as the hundreds of school children who probably for the first time became possessors of banking accounts. According to officials of the local bank in which is deposited the funds, the only trouble was found among the high school children. Most of these it is said, spend most all they can get their hands on and in proportion the number of accounts here was lower than in the grade schools.

Where beneficial results will be secured will be when the present grade school children graduate into high school and having cultivated thrifty habits will help to swell the deposits in the savings banks of Janesville.

Tuesday Last Day for Filing Papers

Next Tuesday marks the final day on which candidates for political offices may cross the line at the office of the Rock county clerk with their nomination papers.

First to file are Thomas Nolan, Janesville, candidate for the republican nomination for state senator; and H. B. Mosely, Beloit township, with no opposition so far as the successor of Edwin G. Hild, Beloit, as assemblyman from the second Rock county district.

To date the only county officers who have opposition are District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie and County Coroner Lynn A. Whitley. Both are opposed by Beloit men. There are four candidates out for sheriff.

30 TOBACCO CROPS EUROPEAN FARMS HIT BY WILDFIRE ARE NEAR NORMAL

Disastrous Eastern Disease Attacks Fields in Dane County.

Tobacco growers are being warned to watch "wildfire," a serious eastern tobacco disease, now in Wisconsin. In letters sent out this week by C. P. Norberg, commissioner of agriculture.

The trouble is infectious and is caused by bacteria. It was discovered in South Carolina in 1917 and has since spread to most of the eastern tobacco sections. The first cases in Wisconsin were found and identified by Dr. James Johnson of the experimental station last week. Since then a survey, carried on by the state entomologist's office with the assistance of Dr. Johnson, showed more extensive distribution than was anticipated. Growers are asked to send suspected specimens to Dr. Johnson at the horticultural building, Madison.

So far wildfire appears to be confined to Dane county, but a search is being made for it in other sections. At least 30 farms are involved, extending from Deerfield to Waunakee, with a center of infection near Burke. The total damage will depend on the weather conditions, and the loss may be severe in the infected fields if driving rains occur in late summer.

This disease differs from other tobacco infections in the presence of circular, blacked-out areas about the size of a dime. Later these pale spots enlarge and run together. Heavily infected leaves are said to be practically worthless.

Illinois Looking for Average Crops

A 2 per cent decrease in corn average, with crop prospects near average, spring sown small grains, potatoes and garden crops below average and other crops average or better, with hay and fruit crops unusually favorable, are the outstanding features of the July 1 report of the state federal crop reporting service for Illinois, just been made public by A. J. Surritt, agricultural statistician.

The June drought, erratic heat, insects and rust caused crops to show varying deterioration.

MARKET ANALYST HIRED
The department of research announces the employment of Gilbert Custer of the agricultural news service, as market analyst. Mr. Custer was formerly a member of the faculty of the agricultural colleges of the University of Illinois and Ohio state university and has conducted special market studies for the bureau of markets and the U. S. department of agriculture.

Japanese Barberry Is Not Dangerous

The Japanese barberry, now commonly planted in Wisconsin cities, is harmless and does not carry the black rust of grains, according to a statement issued this week by the department of agriculture at the state capital. Since the extensive interest in this subject this season caused by the activities of the Farm Bureau and other commercial organizations in fighting black rust of grains, considerable alarm has been felt by the owners of the low Japanese barberry for fear these bushes would need to be removed.

Even Devastated Areas Now Are Under Intense Cultivation, Says Expert.

Washington—Agriculture in western Europe is being rapidly re-established on a normal basis, according to Nat C. Murray, crop statistician of the department of agriculture who has just returned from an investigation of European crop conditions.

"Farm lands in Germany are well cultivated and the farm houses are well kept," said Mr. Murray today. "In the devastated parts of northern France the land has been brought back to a normal state of cultivation."

"The American farmer visiting western Europe is impressed by the small size but high state of cultivation of fields, the large proportion of land labor as contrasted with machine labor on American farms, the large use of women as laborers in the fields, and the use of oxen instead of horses as work animals. Two-wheeled carts instead of four-wheeled wagons are universally used and few automobiles are seen in the farming districts."

Mr. Murray said he was impressed in England by the high prices at which 100 pure-bred Friesian cattle from South Africa sold at an auction sale. The average price for the lot was $5,600 a head, one cow bringing $20,300 and a bull calf born the day before the sale selling for more than $700.

At the Theatres

AT THE DEVERLY.
The Janesville League of Women Voters is sponsoring a program at the Deverly first seen Tuesday night and to be repeated Wednesday. "Jane Byre" is the feature picture, while "Pickaninny" with the famous "Sunshine Sam" and "Movie Chats" an excellent feature shown each week at the Deverly, are added.

This beautiful production of "Jane Byre" from the famous novel by Charlotte Bronte, ought not to disappear from the minds of the admirers of the novel, for it is faithfully reproduced. The public is becoming weary of picturization of famous novels, but will lose some of its wariness if pictures like "Jane Byre" continue to be shown. The scenery is beautiful. The details of the novel are carried out much as described by Miss Bronte. While the smaller details of the book could not be expected in a moving picture of the usual length, the important details are omitted and the story is told in the same chronological order as in the book. The end result is well balanced and pleasing. Funds from all performances will accrue to the League for its civic work.

THREE FROM HERE TO GENEVA Y. W. MEET

Three delegates have now been secured to attend the town-country Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva, July 28-Aug. 7. Mrs. J. T. Fitch-ett will represent the board of directors, while the Misses Clara Winger and Ruth Jeffris will also attend. Others will attend part time.

BAPTISTS LEAVE ON ANNUAL PICNIC

In charge of the arrangements for the picnic of the Baptist church and Sunday school being held Wednesday at Charley Bluff, are: Alfred Olson, general chairman; E. M. Erickson, transportation; Robert Cunningham, boys' games; Mrs. Oliver Sanders, girls' games; Mrs. J. A. Olson and Mrs. W. H. Phelps, supper.
